The Experiment in Landscape Architecture program at IIT Architecture Chicago introduces students to the city of Chicago and its rich landscape architecture heritage, highlighting the works of Frederick Law Olmsted, Jens Jensen, Alfred Caldwell, Dan Kiley, Laurie Olin, Kathryn Gustafson, Piet Oudolf, and others. The Experiment in Landscape Architecture program also connects students to prominent Chicago-based landscape architecture firms.

FORMAT

Experiment in Architecture and Experiment in Landscape Architecture welcome you to Illinois Tech's world-renowned "campus in a park" designed by the architect Ludwig Mies van der Rohe, with the landscape architect Alfred Caldwell. Because enrollment is limited, you can expect individual attention from your studio instructors.

Programs begin with instruction in freehand sketching with an emphasis on interpreting and visualizing the world around us, followed by studio classes, and finish with a session on developing and focusing career plans. In addition, you will tour the city of Chicago—on foot, by train, and by boat! Programs conclude with an exhibition and reception for students and their families.

THE PROGRAMS

If you are currently enrolled in high school and looking to the future, our summer programs are designed for you. Program fees cover all studio materials, readings, museum admission, and meals. CTA passes are provided for use on our off-campus tours, office visits, and residential session weekend activities.
